

Toll Gate Free.

Union & Advertiser, 14 July 1873

The Commissioners of the town of Greece a few days since inspected the Lake avenue plank road, and under the new law regulating such institutions have declared it unfit for travel and ordered it to be made free to the public. Consequently there is no more taking of toll at the gate at the "foot of the hill." It will be quite a novelty to our citizens and also those of the town of Greece to be jolted to death on these "beautiful" planks without paying for the amusement.
